DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Species d, figures 10-14, claims 1-4,6 in the reply filed on 6/20/2005 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
4. Claims 1,3-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over (JP 2001-359250) in view of Santi (US 4,520,288).

Regarding claim 1, Yoshitaka et al. disclose all the aspect of the claimed invention except for the insulating bobbin structure.

Santi discloses an insulation bobbin having an extending portion extending from an end portion (22), insulating portion along an inner surface (24) wherein a guide groove guiding (33) the wire diagonally relative to a circumferential direction of tooth insulating portion from an outside of the extending portion is provided in a side of the extending portion on one of axial sides of the stator.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the structure of Yoshitaka to accommodate the bobbin having the guiding groove as taught by Santi in order improve in winding process and ease to assembly.

Regarding claim 3, the proposal in combination of Yoshitaka and Santi disclose a bottom surface of the guide groove is made up of an inclined surface which inclines inwardly in the axial direction of the stator as the bottom surface approaches the tooth insulating portion along a longitudinal direction of the guide groove (see fig. 5 of Santi).

Regarding claim 4, the proposal in combination of Yoshitaka and Santi disclose the bottom surface of the guide groove is made up of an inclined surface which inclines inwardly in the axial direction of the stator as the bottom surface approaches the tooth insulating portion along a widthwise direction of the guide groove, and wherein the bottom surface of the guide groove connects continuously to a side of the tooth insulating portion without any difference level (see fig. 5 of Santi).

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11

Art Unit: 2834

F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 1, and 3-4 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-6 of copending Application No. 10/902,929. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: as recited in claims 1-2, and 6.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 2, and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
